The following shows some symptoms that could be signs of serious health conditions, which should be checked by a doctor or nurse. It is important to note that you might feel symptoms in one part of your body that could actually mean a problem in another part. Even if the symptoms don’t seem related, they could be. Keep track of your symptoms. If you have any of these symptoms, make an appointment to see your doctor. Listen to what your body is telling you, and be sure to describe every symptom in detail to your provider.

Note: A chart of diagnostic tests that your provider might order are found later in this guide.

Signs of a heart attack

Some symptoms of a heart attack can happen a month or so before the heart attack. Before a heart attack, women may have had one or more of these symptoms:
